SCRIPTION: Type of mavigation features of mote (include 8505 coordinates where useful); e.g., feeders (mavigable a otherwise), locks other than above to locks, use of unumal material or methods of construction, present construction, present use a construction, set. of locks, use of unumal material or methods of construction, present construction, present use a construction of the construction present construction, etc. of locks, use of unumal material or methods of construction, present construction, etc. of locks, use of unumal material or methods of construction, present construction, etc. of locks, use of unumal material or methods of construction, present construction, etc. of locks, use of unumal material or methods of construction, present construction, etc. of locks, use of unumal material or methods of construction, present construction, etc. of locks, use of unumal material or methods due to the construction, present construction, etc. of locks, use of unumal material or methods of construction, present use for construction, etc. of locks, use of unumal material or methods of construction, present use for construction, etc. of locks, use of unumal material or methods of construction, present use for the locks, and the locks, and the locks of construction and the lake. A crude flat-bottomed, canopy-covered steamboat named the JENNY, MILSON, 40° long, by 6' wide with 8" freeboard, made the three hours where it appears of conserve concerned with canal 's preservation/restoration'. S. Dept. of the Interior (see washington Ditch 'report) Pepriter's Make & Address: Part	The second secon	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
STATUS In operation as drainage ditch, fire break CANTON (EMPPOINTS OF CANAL) North end of Lake Drummond to shingle Creek, Wansemond niver (near Suffolk, Va.) LENGTH MER. Spillway CLOCK CHAMBER Spillway CLOCK CHAMBER CHAMBER CLOCK CHAMBER	CANAL TENETONIO CANAL Diamol Swam Historia	(FOR ACS USE)
OCATION (EMPOLINTS OF CAMAL) North end of Lake Drummond to shingle Creek, Mansemond river (near Suffolk, Va.) IT MBR. Spillway DIMENSIONS NEW NO SECTION SIZE TOWN NO. SECTION SIZE NO. SECT		DATES OF CONSTRUCTION & CLOSURE
Shingle Creek, Nansemond river (near Suffolk, Va.) Shingle Creek, Nansemond river (near Suffolk, Va.) CAMALLO BSLACKMATER TOTAL 16 months State Sta
STATE TOWNS of Section SIZE No.		, Va.) CANAL 10 MSLACKWATER TOTAL 16 M in the local was of manual material or methods of construction, present use: 6 condition, steel which is lumber canal was dug about 1810 by the Dismal Swamp Land @dompany which clook over property originally owned by Jeorge Washington and "Adventurers," to improve on original route of washington Ditch from which it branches off, running northwestward, a short distance north of Lake Drummond. In 1836, it was lescribed as 10 miles long, 12 feet wide and 4 feet deep, an early account of a trip on Jericho by. "Porte Crayon" (David Hunter Strother) in Harper's new lonthly Magazine, March 1856. Trip to Lake Drummond via a "large covered barg seed extensively by lumber company to withdraw lumber and shingles made in the washing for transshipment at Suffolk. Equipment and boats destroyed during the circle and the lake. A crude flat-bottomed, canopy-covered steamboat named the Jenny Allson, 40° long, by 6' wide with 8" freeboard, made the three-hours wawes a addresses of course concenned with cash's preservation/Restoration. S.Dept. of the Interior (see washington Ditch 'report) PONTER'S NAME & ADDRESS: PERMITER'S NAME & ADDRESS: PATE PERMITER STATES NAME & ADDRESS: PATE PERMITER STATES NAME & ADDRESS: PE	LIFT spillway
Chis lumber canal was dug about 1810 by the Dismal Swamp Land Gompany which cook over property originally owned by Jeorge Washington and "Adventurers," to improve on original route of washington Ditch from which it branches off, running northwestward, a short distance north of Lake Drummond. In 1836, it was escribed as 10 miles long, 12 feet wide and 4 feet deep. An early account of a trip on Jericho by. "Porte Crayon" (David Hunter Strother) in Harper's new conthly Magazine, March 1856. Trip to Lake Drummond via a "large covered barg sed extensively by lumber company to withdraw lumber and shingles made in the Swamp for transshipment at Suffolk. Equipment and boats destroyed during the Cavil War. In the 1880s a lodge called Lake Drummon) Hotel built at outlet of cericho and the lake. A crude flat-bottomed, canopy-covered steamboat named the Janny JILSON, 40° long, by 6° wide. With 8" Treeboard, made the three-hours was in the three-hours and the lake. A crude flat-bottomed, canopy-covered steamboat named the Janny JILSON, 40° long, by 6° wide. With 8" Treeboard, made the three-hours was in the content of the Interior (see washington Ditch 'report) PORTER'S NAME & ADDRESS: LEYANY JILSON, 40° long, by 6° wide. With 8" Treeboard, made the three-hours was interested of western visitions. The Content of the Interior (see washington Ditch 'report) PORTER'S NAME & ADDRESS: LEYANY JILSON, 228 James River Dr. Newbort News, Va	ESCRIPTION: [Type of navigation, features of note (include USGS coordinates where us	eful); e.g., feeders (navigable & otherwise), locks other than above ture & condition. etc.]
NETORICAL SUMMARY: [Original aims of company, date of incorporation, prominent engineers, cause of closure, significant alterations to structure or outer, height of traffic date, transfers of ownership, etc.] trip to lake and return. The upper end of Jericho Canal cut off when railrounce in the built across five miles of north end of Dismal Swamp. Like washington in the just its owners, the Camp Lumber Co. draglined the canal in 1955 and built a lanking road. Jericho and washington Ditch unite about 100 years from the lake that a crude spillway holding up the water in the canal. Along with washingto witch, Jericho was included in the Union Camp Co's 1973 donation to the Nature Conservancy for transfer to U.S.Depart. of Interior. Note: The Dismal Swamp is crisscrossed by numerous ditches by which lumber rail were on on the navigated. The following named ditches and canals are cited but not detailed further: Portsmouth Ditch, Corapeake Lumber Canal, Cross Canal, midditographical summary: [Published works relating to Canal] Canal (Canal Canal) Canal Canal Canal) Canal C	improve on original route of washington Ditching northwestward, a short distance north of described as 10 miles long, 12 feet wide and a trip on Jericho by. "Porte Crayon" (David Homothly Magazine, March 1856. Trip to Lake Used extensively by lumber company to withdrawamp for transshipment at Suffolk. Equipment Civil War. In the 1880s a lodge called Lake Jericho and the lake. A crude flat-bottomed the Jenny Wilson, 40° long, by 6° wide with Mames & Addresses of Groups concerned with Canal's preservation/restoration	from which it branches off, run- f Lake Drummond. In 1836, it was 4 feet deep. An early account of unter Strother) in Harper's New Drummond via a "large covered barge aw lumber and shingles made in the nt and boats destroyed during the Drummon Hotel built at outlet of , canopy-covered steamboat named 8" freeboard, made the three-hour* TION:
NETORICAL SUMMARY: [Original aims of company, date of incorporation, prominent engineers, cause of closure, significant alterations to structure or outer, height of traffic date, transfers of ownership, etc.] trip to lake and return. The upper end of Jericho Canal cut off when railrounce in the built across five miles of north end of Dismal Swamp. Like washington in the just its owners, the Camp Lumber Co. draglined the canal in 1955 and built a lanking road. Jericho and washington Ditch unite about 100 years from the lake that a crude spillway holding up the water in the canal. Along with washingto witch, Jericho was included in the Union Camp Co's 1973 donation to the Nature Conservancy for transfer to U.S.Depart. of Interior. Note: The Dismal Swamp is crisscrossed by numerous ditches by which lumber rail were on on the navigated. The following named ditches and canals are cited but not detailed further: Portsmouth Ditch, Corapeake Lumber Canal, Cross Canal, midditographical summary: [Published works relating to Canal] Canal (Canal Canal) Canal Canal Canal) Canal C
INSTORICAL SUMMARY: [Original size of company, date of incorporation, prominent engineers, cause of closure, significant alterations to attricture or outer, height of traffic date, transfers of ownership, etc.] trip to lake and return. The upper end of Jericho Canal cut off when railrown into built across five miles of north end of Dismal Swamp. Like washington Ditch, its owners, the Camp Lumber Co. draglined the canal in 1955 and built a Clanking road. Jericho and washington Ditch unite about 100 years from the lake the acrude spillway holding up the water in the canal. Along with washington Ditch, Jericho was included in the Union Camp Co's 1973 donation to the Nature Conservancy for transfer to U.S.Depart. of Interior. Note: The Dismal Swamp is crisscrossed by numerous ditches by which lumber rained on the confece navigated. The following named ditches and canals are cited but no detailed further: Portsmouth Ditch, Corapeake Lumber Canal, Cross Canal, middle Conservancy: (Published works relating to canal) Liexander C. Brown, The DISMAL SWAMP CANAL (Norfolk County Historical Society of Chesapeake, 1970). References in index and bibliography IMPUBLISHED RECORDS, LOCATION OF PHOTOS, DRAWINGS & IMPORTANT PERIODICAL REFERENCES	reporter's name & address: Alexander C. Brown, 228 James River Dr. Newbo trip to lake and return. The upper end of Jericho Canal cut off when railro ine built across five miles of north end of Dismal swamp. Like washington Ditch its owners, the Camp Lumber Co. draglined the canal in 1955 and built a lanking road. Jericho and washington Ditch unite about 100 years from the lake the crude spillway holding up the water in the canal. Along with washington itch, Jericho was included in the Union Camp Co's 1973 donation to the Nature Conservancy for transfer to U.S.Depart. of Interior. Note: The Dismal Swamp is crisscrossed by numerous ditches by which lumber rail were on the navigated. The following named ditches and canals are cited but no detailed further: Portsmouth Ditch, Corapeake Lumber Canal, Cross Canal, middle 100 GRAPHICAL SUMMARY: [Published works relating to Canal] Ullexander C. Brown, The DISMAL SWAMP CANAL (Norfolk County Historical Society of Chesapeake, 1970). References in index and bibliography IMPUBLISHED RECORDS, LOCATION OF PHOTOS, DRAWINGS & IMPORTANT PERIODICAL REFERENCES	HISTORICAL SUMMARY: [Original aims of company, date of incorporation, prominent en	gineers, cause of closure, significant alterations to structure or detailed further: Portsmouth Ditch, Corapeake Lumber Canal, Cross Canal, middingraphical summary: [Fublished works relating to canal) Canal Can	* trip to lake and return. The upper end of line built across five miles of north end of Ditch its owners, the Camp Lumber Co. dragling flanking road. Jericho and washington Ditch with a crude spillway holding up the water in Ditch, Jericho was included in the Union Camp Conservancy for transfer to U.S.Depart. of In Note: The Dismal Swamp is crisscrossed by nu were on Fice navigated. The following named d	Dismal Swamp. Like washington hed the canal in 1955 and built a unite about 100 years from the lake in the canal. Along with washington p Co's 1973 donation to the Nature interior, herous ditches by which lumber rafittenes and canals are cited but no
llexander C. Brown, THE DISMAL SWAMP CANAL (Norfolk County Historical Society of Chesapeake, 1970). References in index and bibliography INPUBLISHED RECORDS, LOCATION OF PHOTOS, DRAWINGS & IMPORTANT PERIODICAL REFERENCES	detailed further: Portsmouth Ditch, Corapeak	e Lumber Canal, Cross Canal, middie
	Alexander C. Brown, THE DISMAL SWAMP CANAL (
		•
NATIONAL REGISTER & MAER (MISTORIC AMERICAN ENGINEERING RECORD) STATUS:	UNPUBLISHED RECORDS, LOCATION OF PHOTOS, DRAWINGS & IMPORTANT PERIODICAL	REFERENCES
ATIONAL REGISTER & MAER (HISTORIC AMERICAN ENGINEERING RECORD) STATUS:
	NATIONAL REGISTER & HAER (HISTORIC AMERICAN ENGINEERING RECORD) STATUS:
	MALISANIA MASSALIMI A MASSALIMI MASSALIMI AND MASSALIMI
DET II D N TO CANAL INDEX FORMITTEE, C/O P.H. STOTT, HAINES ROAD, MOUNT KISCO, NEW YORK 10549

USE ADDITIONAL SHEETS AS NECESSARY.
TO MAKE AN INDEX CARD SUITABLE FOR FILING, CUT ALONG THE HEAVY LINES AND FOLD BACK ALONG THE DOTTED LINE.